POA directors refute petitioners' claims

BY LIZ HAAS

Disputes continue between members of the Diamondhead Property Owners Association and its board of directors over the leadership of the board.

Almost 400 petitioners of the POA requested a recall election of the board and have established their own slate of candidates.

The board set the recall meeting for July 14.

Objectors cited reasons for the petition as problems with the board not considering the opinion of its members and its lack of fiscal responsibility.

"We think the group will be voted down and we'll go on as usual," said Peter Casano, board president.

Casano said there is a handful of people in the leadership of this group.

"We don't know how many followers they have because so many people have called and written to have their names removed from the petition," he said.

"A huge number of people are requesting to get off the recall petition," said Casano. "And if enough get off it, then we'll consider canceling the meeting for recall."

Under Mississippi non-profit corporation law, 5 percent of the total membership is required to sign a recall election petition, without cause, for it to take

Memorial Day

Tips for a safe holiday offered

BY LIZ HAAS

As you plan festivities for the celebration of Memorial Day weekend, law enforcement officers remind you to use extra precaution during this busy weekend to ensure safety.

"Memorial Day is one of the busiest weekends as far as traffic on our highways because it's the beginning of the summer," said Master Sergeant David Kenny of the Highway Patrol.

He said, "There is an influx of extra traffic from the casinos, so we ask everyone to buckle up and look out for the other guy."

He said the Highway Patrol will be out in full force, on the roads and in the air.

"The biggest thing about Memorial Day weekend is the traffic, especially with the extra traffic generated from the casinos, and we will have extra units out looking for hazardous drivers," said Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson.

"We emphasize during the holiday to make sure you are driving safely and observing all traffic laws. Don't drink and drive and be extra careful," he said.

Peterson said, "This is the first holiday of the summer, and we want everyone to have a safe holiday and make sure they drive safely."

Memorial Day is celebrated in remembrance of members of the armed forces killed in war.

Avoid costly mistakes by observing the law

So your inspection sticker expired last month, and you have been meaning to purchase one.

Uh-oh. You're stopped by a routine roadblock.

Justice Court Clerk Liz Cook reported fines for common violations:

- Up to $100 for speeding, expired inspection sticker, expired tag, andreckless driving;
- From $200 to $500 for driving with a suspended license;
- Up to $250 for driving without a drivers license or an expired license;

Senior of the Year honored

Juanita Vaughn, 74, of Pearlington was presented with the Senior Citizen of the Year award for her assistance throughout the year both within the Hancock County Senior Citizens Center and the community. Vaughn is "always willing to help," whether it is in the cafeteria, running an errand or transporting a needy person, said a spokesman of the organization. Her friends at the center jokingly call her the "Mayor of Pearlington." (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

Bay-Wave. teachers want higher salaries

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Peggy Dutton, Bay-Waveland teacher and representative of Unified Educators of Bay St. Louis-Waveland, questioned school board attitude Tuesday concerning pay scale along the Coast.

She said casino revenue benefits should be used to make Bay-Waveland teachers the highest paid, instead of wasting energies on discussion of how the district's pay scale compares to that of Harrison County or Biloxi, etc.

Dutton also expressed a concern for board lack of enthusiasm in acting to find a "legal" way to accept Bay St. Louis' offering of $300,000 of gaming revenues.

Board president Gary Yarborough stated, "We never said we don't want the money. We just don't want to accept the money, give raises to the teachers...then have to take it back."

During discussion of proposed budget items for the new fiscal year, superintendent Paul Tisdale cited need for higher bus driver pay to remain competitive with other job opportunities in the community.

Tisdale said non-certified workers recently received a pay raise, and as board member Linda Penrose stated earlier, he would like to see pay scales more equitable for all employees.

Bayou Caddy sewer line proposal on hold

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

A presentation concerning a proposed Bayou Caddy Casino sewer line was place on hold Wednesday.

Bayou Caddy Casino Inc. president and chief executive officer George Baxter told the Hancock County Board of Supervisors the casino company was looking into alternative funding sources before proceeding with plans for the sewer line.

He added there is a possibility that the casino company will increase the line size itself, thereby eliminating all force main costs for the county planned Clermont Harbor connection.

Baxter said following completion of negotiations with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) concerning a wetlands clearing violation, he will return with a presentation of sewer work plans.

The board approved a letter requesting the EPA reduce the proposed $90,000 fine to Bayou Caddy Casino.

Baxter said his company is meeting with EPA officials in Atlanta, Ga., Friday.

Board members expressed their desire to see the casino company proceed towards its projected September opening.

Baxter said he is to blame for the violation, having ordered the clearing of the scrub bushes himself.

"I didn't know the difference between clearing with a track compared to a wheeled machine," he explained.

Board attorney Gerald Gex said he would have the letter ready today for Baxter to take with him to Atlanta.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

The board approved the hiring of Jack Rivers as assistant principal at Bay High School for the new school year.

Rivers has been Picayune School District junior high principal since 1988.

Prior to receiving an administration degree from the University of Southern Mississippi, he taught math. Rivers will bring approximately 11 years experience in education to the job in Bay St. Louis.

RESIGNATIONS

The board accepted resignations from four Bay High School teachers within the past month. Accepted Tuesday were the resignations of:

—(Bay High School) Renee Hamm, teacher; Stacey McRaney, teacher/coach; Judy Moore, teacher; Kerri Guichet, Chapter I; Norma Morel, food service; and Shelia Farve, housekeeping.

Resignations accepted on May 10 were:

—(Bay High School) Joida Evans, art teacher; Thomas Laird, guidance counselor; and Holly Salters, special education;

—(B-W District) Debra Fowler, special education aide; Lilian Huber, food service; and George Soulier, janitorial.

In other business the board entered into executive session on student matters.

Membership in the POA goes by lots. There are roughly close to 8,000 lots in Diamondhead, of which 1,800-2,000 belong to the developer. There are about 2,000 homes and condominiums in Diamondhead, according to Casano.

"Over 90 percent of people are not even aware of this group's motives and we feel that they are motivated by hate and jealousy," said Eddie Fernandez, board vice-president.

"This POA is the richest and most business-like POA in the history of Diamondhead."

accuses us of going broke, which is hardly the truth," he said.

Fernandez said the financial statements are always printed in The Diamondhead News.

Casano said, "We've raised revenues and cut expenses, and as far as we know that's what business is all about."

He reported the board has done such a good job in managing the affairs of Diamondhead it was able to cut membership dues.

"The other bone of this dissident group is the rebuilding of the Pines golf course and public input into the decision," said Casano.

He added, "Their claims are unfounded and have hurt the progress of Diamondhead."

One of the main bones of this dissident group, according to Casano, is that "they are always coming up with the phrase 'wasteful spending' and lack of fiscal responsibility, but they have never said what it is that we're so wastefully spending."

"This POA is the richest and most business-like POA in the history of Diamondhead," said Casano.

Casano said people who signed the recall petition need to ask those dissident leaders what are they going to do.

"We know they've criticized, but we've never heard anything about what they're going to do," he said.

"They have accused us of mismanagement, but this board has disseminated more information than to our recollection, any other prior board," said Fernandez.

He added, "Their claims are unfounded and have hurt the progress of Diamondhead."

One of the main bones of this dissident group, according to Casano, is that "they are always coming up with the phrase 'wasteful spending' and lack of fiscal responsibility, but they have never said what it is that we're so wastefully spending."

"This POA is the richest and most business-like POA in the history of Diamondhead," said Casano.

Casano reported $940,000 in the bank for the POA as of April 1993.

"All our accounts are current and we don't owe the bank anything, yet this group still accuses us of going broke, which is hardly the truth," he said.

He said, "We have to protect our income or double membership dues to make up for the lost income."

Casano reported all the experts agree there is one way to do it—rebuild the course.

"There has been no assessment or increase in dues or fees and we will pay this in full in two years," said Casano.

The group's third complaint concerns open meetings, according to Casano.

"Some of the leaders of this dissident group are irritated because they can't control the decisions of the board, but they are interested in a veto power, not an opinion," said Casano.

He said, "If you had seen the disruption they have caused in past meetings, you would know why we chose not to open them."

The board is mandated to open two meetings a year.

Fernandez reported the board has held five open board meetings since taking office last June.

"On important matters, we announce in the news that we are having a public hearing, and they are conducted by a cross-section of our members," said Casano.

"This board is a highly professional board," he said. "We conduct the business affairs of Diamondhead in a business-like manner and have been very successful with the money."

Casano said, "And we are going to make more money for Diamondhead in the future."

Casano said the POA is richer than ever and the board plans to try to give some of it back to the membership as soon as the golf course is paid.

"We are going about our business and trying to run the affairs of Diamondhead like we always have."

"We hope Diamondhead will overcome this turmoil and get back to being a peaceful, nice place to live," said Casano.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Graduates are being congratulated on their well-deserved accomplishments.

These students have all accomplished a lot and have spent many years with their 'noses in the books' as the saying goes.

I did run into a father of a graduate this past week who felt he should be congratulated, too.

When I asked this alum of LSU why he should be congratulated, he said, "Well, I am coming up with the 'scholarship fund' for Ole Miss."

Scholarships have been earned by many students, and I feel it is important for more students to receive scholarships.

Students with the highest academic grades usually find it easier to obtain scholarships than others. Usually the top two or three students in a class receive up to a dozen or so scholarships.

Students still in junior high, and even in elementary grades, should begin to prepare early to obtain the highest grade points possible.

Schools offer 'soft' subjects for those who do not want a challenge and try by getting by the easy way.

Some wait until it is too late to start worrying about how it would have been if they had taken those stronger academic subjects.

Educational Excellence is a theme we hear many times, and it is something earned, not given out free. All students have the opportunity, and opportunity only knocks once in many instances.

True, not everyone can be a doctor or lawyer, but no matter what, over 99.9% of you do today, as an adult, have to be able to read and write.

My wishes for those entering kindergarten this fall will be to receive all the support possible from parents and teachers, and as they mature, to set the highest goals possible.

Those who have graduated from high school need to do everything possible to enter college or a junior college and continue their education.

For those who may have failed a grade in school, do not give up, because you have another opportunity at repeating the grade. Remember, you can surprise yourself by what you can do, if you just set your mind to it.

The sky is the limit. Good luck to all.

Don't forget the Saint Stanislaus vs. Bay High Alumni full-contact football game set Saturday at 7:30 p.m., J.D. McCullough Stadium.

Proceeds are to benefit the Scott Demboski Soccer Complex.

Tickets are adults $3 and students $2.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Apathy kills Bay High Athletic Club

Dear Editor:

Three years ago a group of concerned parents formed the Bay High Athletic Club to assist all sports at Bay High School and to help improve school spirit among students and the faculty.

To date, the Bay High Athletic Club has sponsored the athletic banquets at Bay High; Player of the Week awards, together with various merchant sponsors and various other functions, including the homecoming dances and hosting Meet the Team Night for each of the three years.

The club has purchased a new lob machine for the tennis team, a ball retriever and shoes for the basketball team, a batting cage, balls and bats for the baseball team, practice goals, uniforms and balls for the soccer team, balls for the volleyball team, some of the uniforms for the cheerleaders and spirit ribbons for each of the games and meals for all the teams.

A new ice machine was purchased for the use of the school. Together with the school system, the club built a new field house behind the high school for use of all the teams that needed it.

A $5,000 sprinkler system was installed on the football field. $10,000 was also given to Bay High School for the use of building a track around the football field so that the track team would have a place to practice and hold their meets instead of going to Hancock High.

This year the club sponsored the trip to the state playoffs, and also provided all meals for the team, coaches and members of the band.

This week, after much thought, the club decided to become inactive. It is difficult to maintain a club such as this without strong support from parents and all coaches.

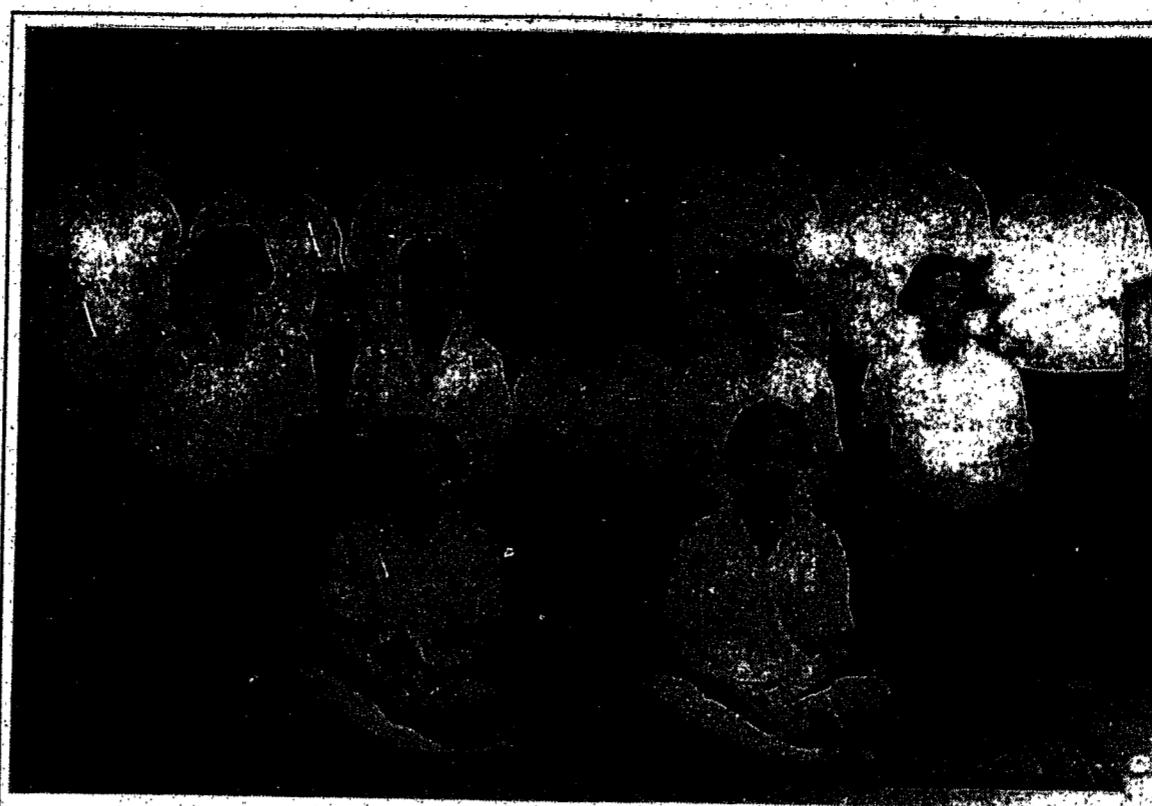

Those of us who have worked hard to make this club what it is deeply regret this decision, but felt we had no recourse. We cannot continue to run the athletic club with only a handful of people.

We have been informed that, due to this decision, a football cheerleader club has been formed. As the name implies, it is strictly for football. We wish them well in their endeavor.

We, the members of the Bay High Athletic Club, would like to express our thanks to the merchants who have so graciously supported our efforts in meeting the needs of the students at Bay High. Without their help, we would not have been able to accomplish any of this.

Sincerely,
J. P. Von Antz
President

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Economic growth and jobs package

America needs a strategy and a vision for long-term economic growth. We do not need some short-term, temporary scheme at the cost of higher taxes or deficits. That is why Senator Bill Roth, of Delaware, and I have introduced the Roth/Lott Economic Growth and Jobs Package — a plan that I hope will dramatically change the debate toward real growth and job creation.

It features incentives for businesses to provide real jobs in the private sector. And, unlike some other plans, it doesn't just create make-work government jobs that aren't paid for and that add to the deficit.

Our plan is paid for with spending cuts. It doesn't raise taxes and it doesn't add to the deficit. This $36.5 billion economic incentive program would be offset by $45.7 billion in spending cuts and reforms, leaving an extra $9.19 billion to his economic discussions.

The indexing of capital gains is not a matter of reducing the rate — which I favor — but rather a matter of fairness. You shouldn't tax people on inflation. Doing so hurts groups like older Americans who hesitate to sell accumulated assets because of the inflation drive on capital gains.

I hope the Administration will work with us on this, and I hope the president will seriously consider this proposal. And, if that is paid for by spending cuts, then I would even consider offering our plan as an addition.

Congress and the Administration should work together to create jobs and to get the economy moving. But, more of the same — more spending, more taxes and more deficits — will not work.

The Roth/Lott Package provides incentives and a strategy to improve the economy and create new jobs through the private sector.

Governor's veto of saving $70 million is bogus

I must admit that I am amazed at the public reaction to Gov. Kirk Fordice's flouting of the state constitution in his use of the line item veto on 30 fiscal measures passed by the 1993 Legislature.

From what I can see, most Mississippians are either saying "right on, Captain Kirk," or they don't give a fig about the consequences of what he has done.

They — at least a whole lot of folks — have bought Fordice's line that with his little veto pen he was merely "saving" $70 million of their hard-earned tax money, and that's good enough for them.

Of course, the "saving" of $70 million is totally bogus as has been pointed out by a number of writers, including this one. He claimed he cut 581 jobs slots in 28 agencies' appropriations to comply with the 2 percent annual reduction of the state job force called for under the 1992 percent sales tax. What he did won't reduce the state payroll one iota. Those job slots weren't filled anyway.

How he did it is what really counts. Striking out the job slot figure in each agency's appropriation and writing in his own figure, which he did, is obviously not a veto but an amendment. If governors since 1890 had thought they could constitutionally amend bills pass by the Legislature, say raise or lower the number of job slots in state agencies, don't you know they would have used it.

One can easily see something like this happening: say the chief threat to a governor's re-election is the incumbent Secretary of State. If the Fordice veto gambit prevailed, the governor could virtually wipe out the Secretary of State's staff. Then if the state Personnel Board, which the governor controls, supported his actions, the governor could scuttle his opponent.

Huey Long in his heyday of lopping off the heads of his foes wouldn't have had a sweeter setup.

Fordice's over-reaching of authority by striking $60 million in items from a general obligation bond issue the Legislature approved for college and university construction, even if it were validly done, only postponed needed capital outlays at those institutions that would have been paid for over a period of years, not now.

But the key point here was that Fordice had no constitutional power to line item veto a bond issue bill. His line item veto authority expressly applies to appropriations. A bond issue authorization is not an appropriation.

In sum, if he gets away with it, Fordice's writing in his own figures for job slots in state agency appropriations, and selectively taking out certain bond issue authorizations while leaving in others, would shift from the Legislature to the governor unprecedented budgetary powers.

What's astonishing is that the public either approves or doesn't care that such an illegal power grab could take place in this state, where once when J.P. Coleman merely sought to exercise gubernatorial leadership and modernize the constitution, he was accused of trying to be a dictator.

Now there is real chance of a governor who comes from the right wing, talking about exercising fiscal restraint, snapping up powers beyond anything contemplated by the state constitution, and few other than the press seem to be disturbed that what he is doing smacks of a dictatorial power takeover.

A lot of the difficulty in getting the average Mississippian to grasp the seriousness of the Fordice line-item veto gambit is that the average guy doesn't relate to or really understands state fiscal issues. To him, it's just another squabble between the governor and the Legislature.

Unfortunately for the Legislature, its image with the public for some years has been lower than even the governor.

This is one time that the Legislature deserves public support. Exactly correct is the position of legislative leaders that waiting to override the governor's line-item vetoes at the next session is not the proper course because it would in effect recognize the validity of his action.

There has to be a showdown, and the Supreme Court seems to be the only place to have it.

Haas to lead Mississippi Public Defenders Association

Nicholas M. "Mac" Haas was elected president of the Mississippi Public Defenders Association's spring meeting held in Natchez May 21 and 22.

The over 200-member statewide organization purposes are to promote and develop the public defender system in the state to render effective legal services in criminal cases to indigent defendants.

Haas has served as Hancock County's public defender since November 1987, with present assistants James Tucker, J. P. Comprietta and Joseph W. Gex.

In addition to promoting educational training for public defenders, scholarships, legislative promotion and monitoring, the organization will have as its primary goal this year the task of spearheading a drive to conduct a statewide survey and study of the public defenders system.

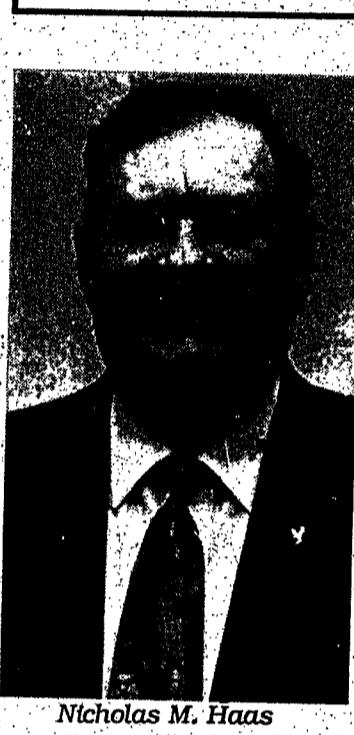

"This will help to present to the state legislature a proposed blueprint to bring the criminal public defenders system on a par equal to that of the prosecutors system in the state," said Haas.

Haas states from his observation and discussion with statewide public defenders and local case load, public defenders are now representing in excess of 80 percent of criminal defendants. There are only three counties in the state with full-time offices of public defenders — Jackson, Hinds and Washington.

"All of the part-time public defenders are far understaffed, underpaid, overworked, with little resources," Haas stated.

Haas resides in Bay St. Louis with his wife Wanda, who is an associate member of the association and a paralegal assisting in handling the defense docket.

Highway Patrol targets speeding motorists on Memorial Day weekend

The Mississippi Highway Patrol is cracking down on speeding motorists.

Lt. Col. Billie T. Hughes, chief of the patrol's uniformed division, said the crackdown is necessary to save lives and reduce the number of injury-producing crashes as well as to comply with federally mandated highway speed guidelines.

He said the patrol's recent enforcement efforts have been hindered by a shortage of personnel and limited hours the troopers are allowed to work under the Fair Labor Standards Act.

"Even with these obstacles we expect the motoring public to drive within the posted speed limits on roads and highways under the patrol's jurisdiction.

"The gambling casinos are expected to bring large numbers of tourists to Mississippi during the Memorial Holiday and the heavier traffic could result in speeding motorists causing more motor vehicle crashes. We cannot allow that to happen," he said.

"Many motorists forget that "We will also use air surveillance officers and motorcycle officers to aid in the effort. The laser speed detection device has been in operation for a year now, and we will continue its use."

A list of the patrol's activities during the 78-hour Memorial Holiday period includes the following, which are not necessarily in order of priority: citing speed law violators and drivers transporting children under the age of two years who are not in a child restraint seat; removing drunken and drugged drivers from the highways; and checking for expired driver's licenses, license plate decals and inspection stickers. Motorists are reminded that there is a law in Mississippi requiring the use of safety belts.

The Memorial Holiday begins at 6 p.m. on Friday, May 28 and ends at midnight on Monday, May 31. In 1992, there were 12 motor vehicle crashes resulting in 14 fatalities during the Memorial holiday weekend.

Troopers issued 2,577 speeding citations and arrested 155 motorists driving while under the influence.

ON PATROL

RAPE

Sheriff's Office Investigator Matt Karl reported the May 22 arrest of a 26-year-old Pearlington man for the rape of a 38-year-old Slidell female.

The two were acquaintances, and he allegedly raped her at his home when she gave him a ride home from work May 22, according to Karl.

"She managed to escape and went to the suspect's neighbors home to call the police," said Karl. "When deputies arrived, they found him driving around in her car and arrested him."

Karl reported, the Pearlington man, had an arraignment May 25 before Justice Court Judge Lee Klein and his bond remained at 10,000.

The suspect remains in the Hancock County Justice Facility.

Deputies on the scene were Corky Hoda and Anthony Callas.

Bridge marathon to benefit summer camp for diabetic kids

SUMMER CAMP

A bridge marathon will be held Thursday, June 17, 7:30 p.m. at the Diamondhead Community Center. Donation is $5 and tickets are available through Diamondhead Couples Bridge, Diabetic Group, Lions Club, Party Bridge Club, PEO or call Joel Bourgeois at 255-9308 to help and for information.

The proceeds will help to send a diabetic child to summer camp — Twin Lakes '93.

DIAMONDHEAD YOUTH

Get out those swim suits. Mom, Diamondhead kids will be taking swimming lessons and practicing to be in the Diamondhead Youth Organization aquatic program. On June practices are 9-10:30 a.m. and 3:30-5 p.m. at the Diamondhead East Recreation Center pool. Registration fee will be first child in family $10; second child, $8 and third child, $5. There is no charge for fourth or more. Make your checks out to Diamondhead Swim Team and mail to Barbara Gibbons at 7439 Mahalo Hui Drive, Diamondhead or call her at 255-7149.

Coach Lonnie Ray is available at 467-6351 also for more information. Let's make a big splash!

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

The Diamondhead Business and Professional Group will meet Thursday, May 27 at 8 a.m. at the Day's Inn. Patrick Jordan, new proprietor of the Diamondhead Yacht Club, will be guest speaker.

Jon Ritten, president, asks that all members please try and attend, also he says that new members are needed to strengthen the organization.

Thanks, Mr. Prez, for giving us a place to put the sign urging residents of Diamondhead to "shop at home, 'cause it hurts us all when you roam!"

ACADEMY HAPPENINGS

The girls and boys who started kindergarten at Diamondhead Academy six years ago will be glad and sad come this Friday, May 28 at 7 p.m., glad for the celebration of their graduation on this evening, but sad to be leaving behind some wonderful teachers and friends and their principal, Mrs. Rogers at the Academy.

We wish them all the best as they take another big step in their lives; the girls mostly going on to attend OLA and the boys St. Stanislaus in Bay St. Louis. The ceremonies will be in the new auditorium.

Music teacher Marty Wheeler will be present for a musical program involving all ages for the awards day program this Friday morning, May 27 at 10:30 a.m.

George and Marge Cassis have to be some of the proudest folks in Diamondhead as they realize the fruition of their labors, labors of love. I might add.

BAY AREA CHORALE

Mark your calendars for Friday, June 25, and prepare to hear another fine concert from the Bay Area Chorale who are busy now rehearsing for their concert, "Americana." Tickets will be going on sale from any one in the chorale group for adults $6, child 12 and under, $4. Please call Conrad Howe at 466-4848 for information.

PICK UP AS YOU GO

Remember, Hancock County's so nice when it's free from trash and litter. Pick up as you go.

SUPPORT GROUP

The Diabetic Support Group meets next Tuesday, June 1, 7 p.m. in the card room at the Community Center.

Registered pharmacist Russell Love owner of Diamondhead Drugs, and some folks with the pharmaceutical companies will discuss over-the-counter and prescription drugs that interact with diabetes — good and bad. They will be available to answer questions from the group.

If you have a loved one, relative, or friend who is a diabetic this meeting will be important to you. Or if you just want to become more aware of this all too common disease, please attend their very informative meetings.

DAY IN THE BAY

Calling all senior citizens in Diamondhead 60 or over to meet at the Diamondhead Dairy Queen every Friday, 8:30 a.m. returning at 1:15 p.m.

A bus will transport you to the Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis where you will make new friends, do some activity, have a nice hot lunch, and yes, even do a little shopping on the way back home.

Some of our Diamondhead ladies thoroughly enjoyed the 1940s dance held at the center last Friday evening. Laura, Arlene, Rosanne, Mr. Carl and all the folks who helped with the decorations, food, and music, did a great job.

IT'S IN THE CARDS

Those gals who get together every Thursday afternoon at 1 p.m. in the card room at the Community Center have such a great time playing canasta.

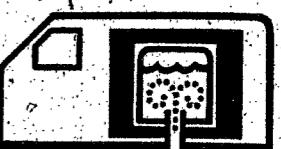

They welcome anyone who remembers and loves to play this fun game to join them. Bring your partner.

NCSGC scholarship

Mississippi State University horticulture student Garry Thompson of Diamondhead received a scholarship from the National Council of State Garden Clubs during a state convention. Presenting the award is Garden Clubs of Mississippi president Josephine White. Thompson seeks a degree in ornamental horticulture and floriculture with a minor in retail floristry management.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Those tiny "new" potatoes, some not much larger than a big marble, are among earth's culinary treats, at least to me, and I've been enjoying them to the fullest these days.

"New" potatoes, of course, are simply potatoes which have been harvested before the skin has "set" and thus are not fully mature. Gardeners often "rob the hills" (and, I know that if I grew potatoes, I would be a prime "robber") to get a taste of the tiny, early potatoes.

You'll sometimes find skinned spots on these "bitsies" as the skin is quite tender and not as fully set as potatoes which have reached maturity. These smaller "spuds" are most readily available in spring and summer.

New potatoes are a taste delight when just briefly, briefly steamed or boiled, with skins on, of course, then splashed with melted butter and dusted with grindings from the pepper mill. So you see, nature's bounty comes to us in small as well as mammoth sizes, and in this case smaller is positively better.

Potatoes, of whatever sort and size, have been a mainstay of the world's food table for a long, long time. The potato has crisscrossed the oceans' time after time, thousands of miles from West to East and East to West. It's generally conceded by food authorities that the potato is one of the New World's gifts to the Old.

Tiny "new" potatoes are big treat in early summer

Because the white potato is such a staple food in Ireland, and commonly called the "Irish potato" (as distinguished from the sweet potato or yam), many believe that the "spud" originated in the Emerald Isle.

Not so! Potatoes stem from Central and South America and were very important in the diet of pre-Inca Indians in Bolivia and Peru, who lived on the high plateaus of the Andes Mountains long years ago.

When the Spanish Conquistadores came, they took potato plants home to Spain on their return voyages, it is generally agreed—but at that point, the confusion and contradictions start!

No one can say, without fear of contradiction, after endless debate, where or with whom potatoes began their journeys back and forth, but just about every historian has an opinion on the subject!

An easy, tasty potato dish is one which came to America along with "les filles de cassette"—the "casket girls" who were brought with their caskets or trunks from France to Louisiana in the early days as prospective brides for the lonely male colonists. Each young lady, a poor but ever-so-respectable orphan, was outfitted with a cassette, or trunk, containing her trousseau—hence the name "casket girls."

They brought, in addition to their caskets, many tasty recipes still used in our kitchens in New Orleans and along the Gulf Coast. Among the recipes is:

POTATOES FILLES A LA CASSETTE
8 medium potatoes, peeled
1/2 cup butter
Pepper, salt to your taste
1 onion, minced
2 Tblsp. snipped (chopped) parsley

Slice the potatoes thinly. Cover with cold water, let stand for a few minutes, then drain and pat dry. Brush a 1 1/4-quart shallow casserole with butter, and arrange overlapping potato slices in the dish, reversing the direction of each new layer until the dish is full.

Season and butter layers as you go. Sprinkle the top with minced onions and parsley and bake, tightly covered in a pre-heated 425-degree oven for 45 minutes or until potatoes are crisp and tender. Remove cover and place dish briefly under the broiler to brown just before serving. (6 servings).

FISHIN' Y'ALL

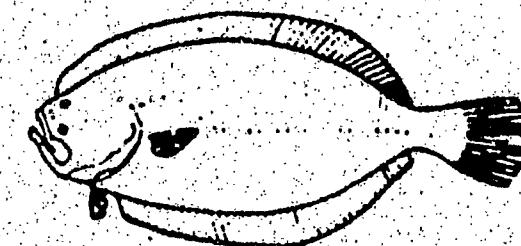

By Jim Maness

p.m.

The best way to cook your flounder catch is broiled with onions and butter, then bring it to the Turtle for disposal.

Got some really nice reports this past week concerning the speckled trout. They are biting on a fairly consistent basis now that the salt content is around way to rearrange your anatomy without the benefit of surgery. To explain this statement I need you to remember that the water temperature is in the 70s. When this 70-degree temperature hits your belly button it has a tendency to relocate your belly button to somewhere around the top of your head. No surgery 20 ppt. and the water temperature is in the 70s.

One group composed of Joan Bernard and friends went out by Grand Pass in the Louisiana Marsh and caught their limit of specks in real post-haste time this past week.

Another group composed of Harold Garcia and one of the Frickies went out by Half Moon Island and put the ants on the specks. They were reported to have come back in with their limits without a whole big bunch of work.

I have no reports of anyone catching any specks in the Three Oaks area, but several reports came in of some nice catches of reds from the area in back of Point Clear Island. Several parties used Bryans Bayou and fished the cuts and deep areas behind Point Clear Island successfully.

The folks who fished this area said to watch out for some stumps under the water after you pass the second cut to your left when you are using the Bayou Caddy entrance to Bryans Bayou.

I tried wade fishing this past week, and I think I have a new involved. Other than the relocation of areas of your anatomy from the cold water, you will find that the specks are roaming the surf in the early mornings and evenings.

I noticed that the majority of the surf fishermen were around the private piers. However, the majority of the trout that I saw caught this past week came from the area right in front of Clermont Harbor Beach and in front of Jackson Bayou in the Buccaneer Park area.

The types of bait used were mixed. I saw one group using what looked like sparkle beetles. Another group was using what looked like silver spoons. But, the most productive group was using live pogie. Small schools of pogie are moving out of the bayous and cuts and can be caught using either a dip net or a cast net.

You need to get your live pogie into your bait bucket and into the water as soon as possible after you catch them as they die real quick like.

This week's wonderful wise words: That funny-looking object directly below you when you go floundering is generally your foot. If you are not sure, stick it and the loud noises you make will convince you it is your foot.

Tips On Writing EFFECTIVE Classified Ads

► STICK TO THE FACTS

Prospective buyers need to know details, like the condition of the item for sale, the size, brand name, color and any other relevant information that would help them make a decision.

► BE HONEST

Aside from being unethical, exaggerating or misinforming potential buyers won't help you make a sale, and may only serve to lose a prospective buyers' trust. Even if they come to look at what you have to sell, they'll be less likely to buy the item or trust you once they see they've been misled.

► SPELL IT OUT

Abbreviations are not easily understood by many people and may even confuse a reader. It only takes a second to pass over an ad because it doesn't seem clear, why let it be yours because you abbreviated a description?

► THE BOTTOM LINE

State the price. You'll save yourself the hassle of having to answer calls from prospects who, upon learning the price, are not really interested. Price is the first thing they'll look for when reading your ad, and when prospects know the price, you'll know you have a serious buyer on the line.

► BE THERE

List the best hours to call and make sure you're at home. If you don't list a specific time, you could be flooded with calls any time of the day or night. And when you're not at home to take calls, most likely, they won't call back.

► ASK US

If you aren't sure how to word your ad or what features to include, why not ask us? Our professionals on staff know how to create an effective ad that sells; they're always willing to help, and there's no charge!

WRITE YOUR OWN CLASSIFIED AD!

Alumni face off

St. Stanislaus, Bay High players from the past vie for bragging rights Saturday

Memories of clashes on the football field will become reality for former Tigers and Rock-A-Chaws when the second annual Bay High/St. Stanislaus Alumni Football benefit game kicks off Saturday, May 29 at 7:30 p.m.

The contest will be at Bay High's J.D. McCullough Stadium.

GAME TIME
SATURDAY IS
7:30 P.M.

Guest coaches for the contest will be Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre for SSC and Sheriff Ronnie Peterson for Bay High.

Admission is $3 for adults, $2 students. Proceeds from the event will fund the schools' athletic booster clubs and the Scott Demboski Memorial Soccer Complex.

The game will be a full contact football contest with 15-minute quarters with three-minute breaks in between, similar to television time outs, said SSC game promoter Sean Logan.

Special guests include Cleveland Browns player Stevon Moore, who graduated from Stone County High School and the University of Mississippi.

Brett Favre has also been invited to attend, said Logan.

Players from Texas, Louisiana, Alabama and Georgia will compete, he said.

Logan expects an injury-free game, following several weeks of rigorous practices. Anyone interested in additional information may call Logan, 452-4813 or Bay High coordinator Mike Proulx, 467-7516 or 452-4316.

Patrons help make summer reading program possible

Local businesses and organizations have shown their support of Camp Read-A-Lot, the 1993 Summer Reading Program, sponsored by the Hancock County Library System.

"We are pleased with the tremendous response we have had to sponsor and donate items for the reading program," said Prima Plauche, library director. "Last year we registered approximately 600 children at all three branches of the library system, and this year we expect more."

Among sponsors are McDonald's Waveland, Ronald McDonald Performance; Peoples Banks; Buttercup the Clown; Teenboard's Hardware, face painting and balloon sculpturing program; Casino Magic, puppet show "Critters Unite" (against litter); and Coast Electric Power Association, awards day ceremony.

Those who provided refreshments for the programs include Colonial Bakery, D&K Quick Stop, Delchamps, GE Plastics, Jitney Jungle, Kiln Supermarket, National Food Store and Winn-Dixie.

Reading incentive prizes for the weekly drawings were also provided by: American Cancer Society; Audubon Aquarium of the Americas; Dairy Queen Waveland; Domino's Pizza; Fahey Drug Store; Hancock Bank; Kmart Waveland; Litter Free '93 Committee; Marine Life; McDonald's Waveland; Metro Office Supply; Pizza Hut; Subway Sandwiches; Sunburst Bank; Tacon's Hardware; and Wal-Mart Waveland.

Programming donations were also received from Brother Lee Barker, St. Stanislaus;

Stennis Space Center; the Mississippi Natural Science Museum; and Mike Reader of WLLO-TV.

Pre-registration will begin Tuesday, May 25, and last until Saturday, June 5. Free programs and activities will begin June 8, and continue through July 15. Participants must complete at least four visits to the library and read at least six books in order to receive a reading certificate.

Puppets-a-plenty

Hancock County Library Systems prepares for the beginning of their Summer Reading Program. Here puppets from the Disney film Beauty and the Beast are displayed by Hancock County Library Systems director Prima Plauche. Pizza Hut manager Gary Whiten and library coordinator for public services Janet Parrott. Pizza Hut in Bay St. Louis donated 144 puppets to be given as prizes throughout the summer program. Children may registration for the June 8 to July 15 program at any of the county's three library branches. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

Businesses to open in Waveland and at casino

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Along with a new Shoney's restaurant, Waveland building official Keith Mitchell reported building permits have been issued for an antique shop on Hwy. 90 and a new discount store in Our Shopping Center.

Casino Magic announced the addition of a McDonald's to be located in the Casino Magic Hotel Resort by the summer of 1994.

The Shoney's, according to Mitchell will be located next to the Dairy Queen and is scheduled to open in September.

He said the antique shop will be constructed near Arnold Street and will contain 8,100 square feet of space.

He added, Fred's, in the Our Shopping Center at Hwy. 90 and Waveland Avenue will be open in about two weeks.

Ballroom dance set

The Ballroom Dance Club will sponsor a dance May 28, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Elks Lodge No. 978 in Gulfport, 1800 E. Beach Blvd. Cost is $7 per person for members and $10 per person for non-members.

There will be an optional fried seafood dinner available for $6 per person. For information call 435-2673.

Diamondhead hosts GLT

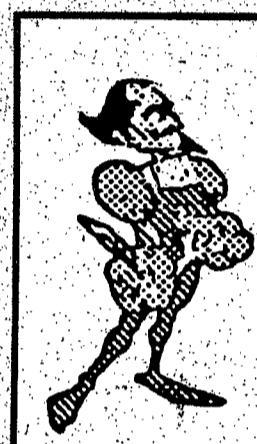

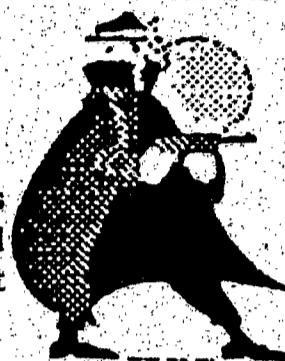

Gulfport Little Theatre presents three one-act plays in Diamondhead

Diamondhead Performing Arts Society will host a special presentation of three one-act plays by Gulfport Little Theatre Thursday, June 10 at Diamondhead Country Club.

Mirage, The Taming of the Shrew and Graceland will also be presented Friday, June 11 for Diamondhead Performing Arts Society members only.

"MIRAGE" directed by Lynda Conwell

This drama, with comedic highlights, is about an ex-convict's revenge on the lawyer who sent him to prison. This play is filled with greed and deceit and has an interesting twist in the plot which will leave the audience smiling.

"THE TAMING OF THE SHREW" directed by

Tonya Sanders Hays

This 30 minute cutting from Shakespeare's classic is a hilarious celebration of laughter and love presented by two actors. Kate is a shrewish, stubborn, strong-willed woman determined not to give in to Petruchio's wooing, but alas, he wins her over with some rather unconventional methods. This show will feature Tonya Sanders Hays and Michael O'Neal, recently chosen as the 1992 favorite actor by the Sun-Herald.

Note: Elvis music will be playing before the show and Elvis door prizes will be given away each night.

Tickets for the June 10 performance are $12.50 for adults and $9.50 for children under 13. No tickets will be sold at the door.

For information call 255-6042, or send check and self-addressed stamped envelope to: Suite 701, 443 Yacht Club Drive, Diamondhead, MS 39525.

"GRACELAND" directed by David Delk

A delightful comedy which involves two characters as they await the opening of Graceland. Bev is a loud brassy woman and Rootie is meek and mild. Both want to be the first person to enter Graceland and their competition evolves into a touching friendship.

Humane Society receives artwork

The Hancock County Humane Society Flea Market was recently given a collection of Wallace Nutting paintings from a private benefactor. The artwork, from the 1920s and 1930s, is a variety of frame sizes in their original early frames. The entire collection consists of natural black and white photography that Nutting color tinted by hand. The twelve pieces were accompanied by framed sheet music from 1918 and 1923. Wallace Nutting, born November 17, 1861, died July 19, 1941. A clergyman, author and painter, he was popular in the new England area. The flea market is located at the intersection of Highway 90 and Drinkwater Blvd. in Bay St. Louis. From left are Humane Society Flea Market manager Teresa Pernicaro and volunteer Sue Lamm displaying the artwork. (Echo staff photo by Liz Haas)

Local dancer selected as Mississippi Junior Dancer

Priscilla Ann Austin, an eight-year dancing student at the Arabesque School of Dance in Bay St. Louis under the direction of Karen Comprett, will represent South Mississippi as a Mississippi Junior Dancer.

Auditions, consisting of approximately 100 dancers throughout the state, were held at the Hinds County Community College in Vicksburg.

Twelve dancers were chosen by Mallory Graham of South Carolina, the renowned choreographer of Hello Dolly and other Broadway musicals.

Austin is the daughter of Jimmy and Lynette Austin of Pass Christian. She is the granddaughter of Clifton and Wade Fontaine of Waveland and Jerry and Beatrice Austin of Bay St. Louis.

A 12-year-old fifth grader and a school student in an accelerated class at Bay School where she has perfect attendance.

Activities she is involved in include two-year membership in the Arabesque School of Dance, 1992-1993 and Mini Miss competition member of the Arabesque School of Dance.

Austin will travel to Vicksburg where she will dance for the Miss Mississippi Pageant, which will be televised live, July 10.

For additional information and a free Poet's Voice, send three 29 cent stamps to SPA/Writers Info, P.O. Box 524, Pass Christian, MS 39571.

Working moms

NRL employees take daughters to work in observation of national campaign

Thirty 9-to 15-year-old girls went to work at the Naval Research Laboratory (NRL) during the first national 'Take Our Daughters to Work' day April 28.

The Mississippi Foundation for Women-sponsored campaign is a national public education campaign designed to draw public and media attention to girls' ideas, their concerns, their spirit and their dreams, and to show that job potential is not limited by gender.

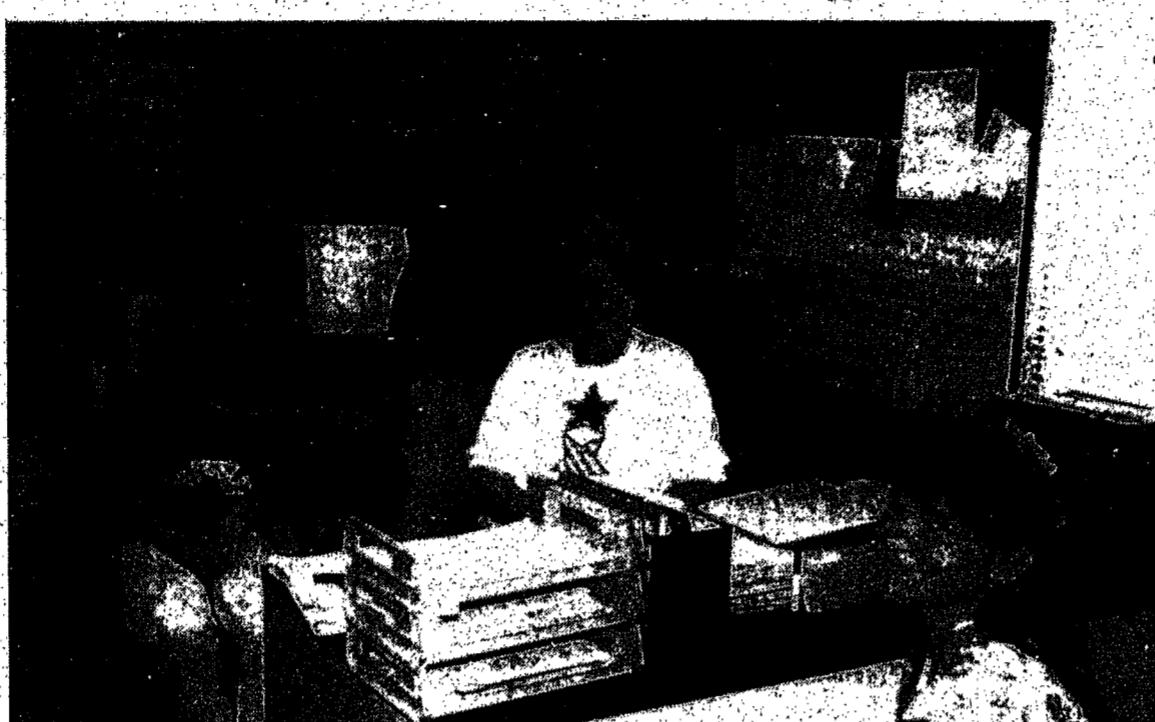

Mothers, fathers, grandparents and friends took advantage of this opportunity to introduce the young women to their jobs and the jobs of their fellow workers at NRL. These young women followed in the footsteps of secretaries, geophysicists, administrative officers, personnel specialists, mathematicians, public affairs assistants and contract specialists.

A mid-morning program introduced the young women to the laboratory in general using NRL videos "From Sea to Space," and "Ocean Technology." A presentation from Dr. Dawn Lavoie, marine geologist, showed the girls slides on various sea cruises she has participated in.

The Naval Research Laboratory is the Navy's corporate research laboratory and is charged with the mission of conducting a broadly based, multidisciplinary program of scientific research and advanced technological development. Organizational entities located at Stennis Space Center include the Oceanography Division, Marine Geosciences Division, Center for Environmental Acoustics and Remote Sensing Applications Branch.

Denise Kennedy of Waveland, standing, and daughter Karen, seated front, and Georgie Ladner of Perkinston and daughter Dinah, left, were among NRL employees participating in 'Take Our Daughters to Work' day. Ladner's daughter Denise, also an NRL employee, brought her daughter Karen along for the day.

Health fair

Hancock Medical Center celebrated Hospital Week with many activities, including a Community Health Fair last Saturday. One of the features was a tour of a mobile MRI (Magnetic Resonance Imaging) Unit which will be part of HMC's services offered in the near future. Trying the unit out was Cindy France, RN, of Professional Home Health while Ron Drees, RT, explains how the unit operates. The MRI views tissues of the body. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Ship Island Holding to publish Coast Magazine

Ship Island Holding Co., the Gulfport-based parent company of Coast Business Journal, has announced it will begin publication of Coast Magazine, a city magazine focusing on the people, places and events of the Mississippi Coast.

The magazine, which was last published under previous ownership in March 1992, is scheduled to be on newsstands by mid-November for the cover months of December, January and February. The publication will continue on a quarterly basis.

Editor Karen Bryant said, "We plan to bring readers feature articles they want to read about. We also plan to fill every issue with beautiful photographs."

She said the magazine's initial mailing will go to all former Coast Magazine subscribers.

North Bay teacher named for excellence

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

North Bay kindergarten teacher Janet Fiveash received the Alan R. Barton Award for excellence in teaching Monday during a regular meeting of the Bay-Waveland School District.

The award is given annually by Mississippi Power Company.

Cash awards included: $500 for personal use by Fiveash; $500 for use by North Bay Elementary, and $1,000 for Fiveash to spend in staff development.

The board and audience members were treated to a video of Fiveash interacting with her students along with commentaries by fellow teachers, parents of former and present students, and the students themselves.

The award is given to three teachers statewide.

OLA holds May crowning, ring ceremony

Our Lady Academy held a joint ceremony May 3 during which the seniors crowned the Blessed Mother, and the Class of '94 received their class rings from the Class of '93.

The senior class, dressed in white graduation gowns, proceeded into Our Lady of the Gulf Church for a prayer service entitled, "Women of Christianity."

In various readings, they recognized women of the Old and New Testaments and others, such as Marie Curie, Helen Keller and Dorothy Day. Readers were seniors Kim Manieri, Leanne Bennett, Katie Blount, Emilie Magnon, Jennifer Clark, Amy Lee and Swanna MacNair. Jamie Bordages, assisted by Krista Albright, crowned a statue of Mary, the Blessed Mother of Jesus, while the seniors sang "Ave Maria." Following the coronation, Aimee Dean led the assembly in the reading of an "Act of Consecration to the Blessed Virgin Mary."

After the May Crowning ceremony, Mallory Mestayer, student body president, introduced the ring ceremony. Members of the senior class presented the class rings to the 32

Wilcox to participate in Scholars program

Amanda Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilcox of Waveland, has been selected as one of 40 students from a five-state area to participate in the Young Scholars program.

The program, sponsored nationwide by the National Science Foundation, includes students from Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Alabama.

Students participating will engage in university-level research on the University of Mississippi campus from July 11 through 30.

Wilcox, a Bay High School

freshman, will study lake and wetland plants and animals at the university's Biological Field Station, attend lectures and visit laboratories and write her experiences in a scientific format at the university Computer Laboratory.

Selection for the Young Scholars program is based on a letter of recommendation from a science teacher, an essay, grades in science and mathematics, national test scores and honors relating to the science field.

Wilcox was also recently nominated for a U.S. Achievement Academy Award in French by teacher Kathy MacDowell.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

Adult Literacy Education

Tutoring sessions for adults who want to learn to read and write are available through the Hancock County Library System. The program is open free of charge to any adult aged 16 and above who wants to improve reading skills to a grade five level.

Each student meets one-on-one with a certified tutor trained in the use of the Laubach Adult Literacy method. Student/tutor units meet at a time and learning center convenient to both. Learning centers for literacy are currently located in Bay St. Louis, Kiln, Waveland, Diamondhead and Pearlington.

Call June Piley, Hancock County literacy coordinator, at the Bay St. Louis Library, 467-5282, for information. Persons who wish to teach adults to read as volunteer literacy tutors are also encouraged to call.

American Cancer Society

Assistance to victims of cancer is available through Hancock and Harrison county chapters of the American Cancer Society.

Necessary items for patients, such as dressings, ostomy and sickroom supplies are available to those in need. Equipment which may be loaned to patients includes wheelchairs and hospital beds.

Assistance is available for transportation to qualifying hospitals.

Several rehabilitation programs are offered, including "Reach To Recovery", in which volunteers who have had mastectomies visit new breast cancer patients (with approval of physician) to assist in emotional, physical and psychological rehabilitation. A support group for breast cancer patients, as well as other types of cancer, meets the second Tuesday of each month at the Hancock Medical Center classroom at 7 p.m.

Support programs are also available to ostomy and laryngectomy patients.

American Cancer Society service requests in the Hancock County area may be directed to service and rehabilitation chairman Deeta Elizley, 255-4338.

Battered Women

Free counseling is offered for Hancock County women suffering from emotional or physical abuse.

Lucienne Gautier, outreach coordinator with Gulf Coast Women's Center, is available each Thursday from 1 until 5 p.m. at the Hancock County Youth Court building on Court Street.

All cases are confidential. Call 435-1968 collect for appointment.

The Gulf Coast Women's Center, a United Way agency, also offers an advocacy program for victims of sexual assault and domestic violence. A 24-hour crisis line is available by calling 435-1968.

Bay-Waveland Crisis Pregnancy Center

The Bay-Waveland Crisis Pregnancy Center offers free counseling, pregnancy tests, maternity and baby clothes.

Located on Highway 90, next to the Unique Shoppe in Waveland, the center offers a 24-hour hotline, 467-3444.

Blood Pressure

Retired Senior Volunteer Program sponsors free blood pressure testing Tuesdays, 9:30-11:30 a.m., American Legion Post No. 77, Waveland; Wednesdays, 10:30-11:30 a.m., RSVP office, Senior Citizens Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock Medical Center Women's Auxiliary (Pink Ladies) conducts free blood pressure testing at the hospital, 10-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays.

Hancock County Humane Society

The Hancock County Humane Society operates a flea market in Bay St. Louis on Highway 90 and Drinkwater. Proceeds help needy animal owners with spay-neuter assistance, emergency pet food and emergency medical help.

The society is in constant need of good, but unwanted, articles of every description to sell in the thrift store. Gifts are tax-deductible.

Hours are 9 a.m.-1 p.m. Monday; 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday.

Humane Society meetings are held at 7:15 p.m. on the third Monday of each month at the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue. For additional information, call 467-7686.

Legal Line

Volunteer attorneys answer legal questions from the general public from 6 to 7 p.m., first Wednesdays at 1-374-4160. The service is sponsored by Harrison County Young Lawyers, South Mississippi Planning and Development District Area Agency on Aging and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

Money Management

The Consumer Money Management Center serves the public by providing free financial consultations as well as informational literature and seminars for employers, educational institutions and civic and professional groups.

Information and assistance from the center relates to various aspects of personal money management including budgeting, credit repayment, insurance, and investments.

The service is sponsored by Mississippi State University and Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. To set up an appointment call Hancock County Extension Office, 467-5456.

Parkinson Support Group

There is a certain magic that takes over when people who share the same problem get together to help each other. Support groups are a blessing formed by closeness and love to help take away the sting that has resulted from the thought of being alone.

The public is invited to all meetings, which are held the second Sunday at 2 p.m. at Garden Park Community Hospital in Gulfport. For information, call 863-2929 or 467-0307.

PWA/HIV Project of Mississippi

Crawfish tasting

C.A. and Gilda Miller of Pensacola, Fla. sample crawfish at the Hancock County Welcome Center. Local restaurants offered tastings of Hancock cuisine while the chamber of commerce passed out promotional literature during National Tourism Week celebrations. This was Mrs. Miller's first time eating boiled crawfish. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

The Hancock County branch of the PWA/HIV Project of Mississippi has an anonymous support group for persons with AIDS and another for their loved ones and caretakers. The Bay St. Louis based affiliate of the statewide organization maintains a community house which serves Hancock County and west Harrison County.

For more information, call Edith Backat 467-2445 or Betty Brunner at 467-2205. In Harrison County, call 435-1029.

St. Vincent Thrift Store

St. Clare Conference Society of St. Vincent de Paul operates a thrift store, City Hall Annex, Coleman Avenue. It is open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 10 until 3, and Saturday, 10 a.m. until noon.

All proceeds benefit the needy regardless of race or religion. An information and referral service is available from 1:30 until 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday. For additional information, call 467-0703.

Senior Citizens Center

Located in the Valena C. Jones Bldg. at 301 Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, the center serves Hancock County citizens 60 plus years of age.

Under the Hancock County Human Resource Agency, the center provides classes in ceramics, macrame, art, counted cross stitch, silk flowers, ornaments, framing and various other crafts. A morning snack is provided with donations from various clubs and businesses.

The center has a contract to provide 35 home delivered meals a day to those seniors who cannot provide for themselves, and 25 meals for those who have a need for a hot well-balanced meal daily in the cafeteria at the center.

Transportation is provided through a contract with Coast Area Transportation for most seniors in the county to bring them into the center, or to take them to the grocery, doctor, etc.

The contract with Methodist Senior Services provides two homemakers for about two hours a week to homebound, needy seniors to do light housekeeping or errands for them.
